

CLINICAL STUDY

Living with Multiple Sclerosis can be unpredictable

A new study for people with relapsing-remitting Multiple Sclerosis

A clinical research study is being conducted to test the safety and effectiveness of a new oral medication for people with relapsing-remitting Multiple Sclerosis.

We are looking for volunteers to participate in this study. You may be eligible if you:

- Are age 18 through 65
- Have been diagnosed with relapsing-remitting Multiple Sclerosis

If you are interested in learning more about this study, please contact:

1800 800 285

Trial to Investigate Minimizing Multiple Sclerosis Episodes

Participation in this study will be treated confidentially

MS Newspaper Advert Australia (V1, 3Nov06)